

ESG: Seeking to make a difference

As we work with our customers and partners to create a better-connected world, we seek to make a difference, and we incorporate this commitment into our business culture, innovation, products and operations. Indeed, environmental, social and governance (ESG) considerations are integral to our operations, and we seek to follow a comprehensive approach in our sustainability journey. We are committed to diversity, equity and inclusion, believing a gender diverse, multi-cultural and multi-generational workforce provides strength and a competitive advantage.

Our achievements have been recognized by independent organizations. We were included in TIME magazine's list of the World's Most Sustainable Companies (2024) and on the 2023 S&P Dow Jones Sustainability Index (DJSI) North America, placed in the S&P Global's Corporate Sustainability Assessment (CSA) Yearbook, and received high ratings in the Carbon Disclosure Project (CDP) and EcoVadis sustainability ratings.

We place high value on protecting the environment and minimizing negative environmental impacts that may be created by our operations and seek to create sustainable products and services. We remain committed to our long-term climate change goal of becoming carbon neutral in our business operations (Scopes 1 and 2) by 2040 and also to reach 100 percent electricity from renewable sources by 2040. We are also proud that we have reduced our Scope 1 and Scope 2 tCO₂e (tonnes of carbon dioxide equivalent) emissions by 55% since fiscal 2019.

We also place great emphasis on enriching the lives of our employees, as encapsulated in our new employer brand "Live Amazing. Do Amazing", which we launched in fiscal 2024. Our efforts focus on providing a people-centric work environment, understanding that flexibility is key, ensuring opportunities for growth and professional development, embracing a culture of continuous learning and upskilling, and significantly expanding our employee well-being programs and investments. We also believe in the importance of empowering employees to make an impact, both through their professional work in developing innovative products and solutions and through volunteering in digital inclusion programs, STEAM education, and environmental awareness programs in the communities in which we work.

Healthy pipeline and innovative technology position Amdocs for continued growth and operating margin expansion

While we continue to operate in a challenging industry demand environment, the conditions of which are yet to improve, we see a healthy pipeline of opportunities across our strategic areas of focus of cloud, next-generation monetization platforms and GenAI. We believe we are positioned to maintain our high market win-rate by leveraging our pedigree for innovative technology, our market-leading portfolio, premier execution and highly talented people.

Our cloud-related activities in fiscal 2024 were around 25% of total revenue, contributing double-digit growth for the fiscal year, while our GenAI strategy is gaining momentum as we start to shift from production pilots to commercial customer engagements.

We remain laser-focused on continued operational excellence and ongoing efficiency initiatives to drive profitability gains and are phasing out several low-margin, non-core businesses that are becoming commoditized and hold little potential for long-term value addition or profitability enhancement.

We remain confident in our relatively resilient business model of recurring revenue streams as we support our customers' mission-critical systems. Adjusting for the phase out of low-margin, non-core business activities mentioned above, this leads us to expect pro forma³ revenue growth of between 1% to 4.5% in fiscal 2025 in constant currency⁴. Importantly, we expect our non-GAAP² operating margin to surpass 21% for the first time in fiscal 2025 and expect to deliver GAAP diluted earnings per share growth of 25.0% to 33.0% and 6.5% to 10.5% non-GAAP² diluted earnings per share growth.

We want to conclude this letter by thanking our shareholders, customers, partners and employees for your trust and confidence in Amdocs. We look forward in fiscal 2025 to continuing to help those who shape the future to make it amazing for billions of people around the world.
